

Abstract

A coffee house that holds open mic nights. People can sign up to play for set that lasts no longer than 30 minutes. Each set will start on the hour, which gives the performer 30 minutes to play and another 30 minutes to set up and tear down. People should be able to enter their performer information which includes a name and genre for the group from one to four members, date and time they wish to perform. Only one performer may be scheduled in an hour.
